The Breast Health Clinics at Seattle Cancer Care Alliance outpatient clinic and UW Medical Center-Roosevelt are for women who have concerns about a breast lump, abnormal mammogram, or other symptoms like nipple discharge or pain.

Staffed by breast surgeons and nurse practitioners who have special expertise in breast health, the Breast Health Clinic team provides thorough and concise evaluations of breast abnormalities, develops individual screening plans for people at higher-than-average risk for breast cancer, and treats benign breast problems, as well as breast cancer.

Patients at the Breast Health Clinic have easy access to several imaging technologies available in both locations.

When you visit the Breast Health Clinic, you can expect:

» A discussion of breast imaging tests such as digital mammography, ultrasound, and MRI (magnetic resonance imaging)

» A clinical breast exam from an experienced breast specialist and appropriate follow-up care as directed by your healthcare provider

» Minor procedures such as needle sampling or biopsy

» Pre- and post-operative care for women who have had breast surgery

» Recommendations for a comprehensive individualized screening program

» A referral, if appropriate, for genetic counseling

Our goal is to provide you with state-of-the-art, comprehensive breast health services while paying special attention to your individualized needs. We look forward to serving you.
